

Textbooks for St Mary's Secondary

THE President and Leader of the Eternal Life Ministries International, Rev Stephen Kwakye, has presented a quantity of assorted textbooks worth €20 million to the St Mary's Secondary School in Accra.

The donation, which is made up of Science, Mathematics, Geography, French, Literature, Accounting and other Business Studies books, is to help equip the school's library.

Rev Kwakye, who is based at the Ministries headquarters in the New York, said the donation was made possible by the Interact Club of Oyster Bay High School, North Post High School and Mr Aubrey Retmire, a tutor in Brooklyn.

He said they decided to give the books to St Mary's Secondary School because of its efforts to promote the level of girl child education in the country.

He disclosed that the church has acquired a six-acre land at Kasoa in the Central Region to construct a school and a clinic as their contribution towards promoting child education and rural health.

Mrs Victoria Opoku, who received the books, thanked the donors for the kind gesture.

• Above: Mrs Opoku and Rev Kwakye glancing through some of the books.